

Literature Circle Notebook

Each literature circle is responsible for submitting one group notebook that contains all of the work that the group has done concerning the novel study.

The following items must be included in the notebook:

- Title page - This page should include the name of the book studied and a list of the group members.
- Table of contents
- List of members' names and the responsibility rotation sheet
- Discussion Leader sheets - Each discussion leader should contribute a list of questions used in discussion of the book.
- Connector sheet - Each connector should submit a sheet explaining how they connected the reading selection to the outside world.
- Word Wizard sheet - Each word wizard has to submit a list of words and definitions from the readings.
- Literary Luminary sheet - This should be a list of readings that the literary luminary picked and the reasons for picking the selections.
- Summaries - This section should contain the well-written summaries of the assigned readings.
- Illustrations - The illustrations need to be labeled and put in the correct order. Be sure the artist's name is on each illustration.
- Reflections - Each person in the group will reflect on the novel and the things learned through the novel study. You may comment on characters, situations, impressions, feelings, connection, and whether you would recommend the book or not.

Do your best work. Use ink.
