

Your Own Invention

What do you think the world needs? Your invention might be something you would use, or it might help someone else, an animal or the environment. It might even be an improvement on another invention. You may want to jot down some ideas while you brainstorm.

1. What is your invention? _____

2. What will it do, or how will it work? _____

3. What is its purpose? _____

4. What will you call it? _____

5. Draw a diagram of your invention.

6. List the materials needed to develop or build your invention. _____

7. Explain why your invention is unique and important. (Hint: Fun can be important!) _____
